Sunsar Maya

Established in 2011, Sunsar Maya was founded by four individuals who met and became friends while volunteering in Nepal. They were deeply moved by the kindness and generosity of the Nepali people, particularly the children they met. After witnessing the difficulties so many Nepalis face on a daily basis, they resolved to make a positive difference in their lives.

Now, Sunsar Maya is run primarily by Nepali women, with support staff and board members located around the globe.

Their work Our work is divided into four key pillars: After School Program (ASP), Women's Literacy Program (WLP), Teacher Training, and Emergency Relief.

This multi-pronged approach addresses both the short- and long-term needs of a population that suffers from severe social and economic barriers. They work alongside a strong network of collaborators, service providers, and local stakeholders to provide programs that educate and empower communities.
