Summer is our slow time, but here's a quick retrospective on some of what we've been doing during the Spring.

Save a Girl Launch Success

The Save a Girl national launch was a huge success. With 3 days still to go, we are at 709% of our original 30-day goal. Thank you to all those who made this possible!

If you'd like to help even one girl, click here to go to the campaign. You will remember it for the rest of your life.

We are certain that keeping an adolescent girl in school for $2 per year is one of the highest returns on human investment in the world.

New Save a Girl Sewing Center in Tanzania

Together with Humanity For Children, TGUP has opened a new Save a Girl sewing center in Tanzania. Members from our Kenyan center, operated by KISI, traveled to Loibor-Siret, Tanzania to help train seamstresses at the new center.

This photo shows members of the two crews working together to perfect a pattern. The new center has already begun producing Save a Girl kits for girls in the surrounding area. The initial set of 500 kits was funded by Los Altos Rotary Club, in Los Altos, CA. THANK YOU LARC!

Classroom Renovated in Nicaragua

We renovated the Bangkukuk school in Nicaragua. The old one-room school had become too perilous to use. The renovation was especially challenging because the village is accessible only by water.

TGUP paid for the materials. Our Nicaraguan partner, Seeds of Learning, oversaw the project. But all of the work was carried out by village residents.

A new classroom at Kanjuu School in Kenya

We just finished a new classroom for the Kanjuu Secondary School in Kenya. Here are the Before and After photos. What a difference!

This project was funded by members of Kiwanis Region 16 — around Davis, Sacramento, and Stockton — in California. Thank you Kiwanis members! You are truly "Serving the Children of the World."

New Kitchen in Las Ruinas, Guatemala

The elementary school at Las Ruinas in Peten, Guatemala feeds the students two meals a day. But the kitchen was abysmally decrepit, almost unusable. See the "Before" photo, below.

TGUP, through its partner, Seeds of Learning, just finished building a new kitchen, seen above. Thousands of children will have a better education because of this project. THANK YOU to those who helped.

New playground in Nepal

Global English Boarding School in Lamjung, Nepal has 500 students in grades K-12 but they had no playground for the children to play on. Children need to play! With The Little Sisters Fund, we built a modest playground, with four structures. See two of them, here.

The local community contributed 60% of the cost, bringing our part in under $1,000. Thousands of children will now have a more enriched childhood. This playground was funded by the Chapman family of North Carolina in memory of Tom. THANK YOU! The world is a better place because of you.

Final Word

TGUP works because it is so simple. We don't do glamorous projects, just basic ones like you see here: classrooms; kitchens; playgrounds; sanitary pads for girls; water wells; latrines; etc.

We've raised money from private foundations that covers all of our operating costs. So, 100% of every dollar an individual donates goes into their intended project.

And our revenue model is centered on many, many people making small donations which, when combined, have a major impact. Hence, our motto: "Even the greatest waterfall starts with a single drop of water."

We don't know any other group in the world that approaches global development in this way, or that can so document that it's working.

This is working. We've completed more than 200 of these projects that are helping somewhere around 1 million people to date. The path to global scale is immediate, transparent, and linear.

We're thankful to those who understand this, and have helped. We really can change the world. We are.

Wouldn't you like to help change the world? Isn't that why you're reading this? Don't just watch — join us — click the button below. It's easy, and as rewarding as anything you will ever do.
